Scanning & Archiving

- Includes dust removal and color balancing
- See chart inside back cover for assistance in determining appropriate scan size
- Maximum flatbed scan size is 12" x 18"
- Images up to 20" x 24" that can not be flatbed scanned (because they are too large, too fragile, or have a texture that can not be captured effectively) can be captured photographically and color-corrected (DCW)
- No Smile Club discount on rush charges

Carousel Scanning (Pre-Paid Boxes)

- Pre-loaded slide carousels can be scanned quickly and cost-effectively--take the carousel home, load, and return
- Only Kodak Carousel-compatible carousels are acceptable if brought from home
- Choose to keep the carousel or recycle it and have slides housed in archival pages
- Load slides so that they are facing forward when on the left-hand side (reversed from the orientation used for projection), horizontally and head up (or to the side if vertical)

Reel Film Transfer

- Copyrighted material will not be transferred without release
- Please apply a twin check directly to each reel
- It is not recommended to put more than two hours of footage on one disc, to maintain the highest possible quality settings, but at lower quality more is possible
- Customer-provided music and intertitles can be added to reel film transfers
- Use the reference chart in the back of the book to distinguish films and estimate length based on the diameter of a reel
- HD transfers are always delivered on Blu-Ray; a downsampled SD DVD version can be added on for compatibility (at time of transfer only)

Stationery Card Sizes & Paper Weight Guide

- Note that the stationery A2 size is different than the European A2 paper size
- Text and Cover weights are in pounds (e.g. our calendars are printed on 80# cover)
- Call the central lab with questions about specific paper weights
- Photographic paper is not rated on any of these scales

Film Frame Size Guide

- Compare the exposed frame (not the film itself)
- Note that some films exist (e.g. 616) which appear similar to 120 film but are slightly wider and will not scan in any minilab equipment--all film wider than 61mm MUST be flatbed-scanned

Reel Film Size Guide

- Measure the entire diameter of film wound 'round a reel

Print Resolution Chart

- Use this guide to determine the pixel dimensions or uncompressed file size necessary for a print
- Remember that, for optimum quality, lab prints and gift items need files at 300 ppi and custom imaging prints need files at 150 ppi
